Call For VOLUNTEERS 2010/2011

You are young, motivated, interested in people and history?
Don't hesitate and join the “Foundation for Polish-German Reconciliation” in Poland's capital city Warsaw.

The Foundation of Polish–German Reconciliation is engaged in preserving the memory of the victims of the Second World War, initiates and supports the dialogue within society and works on the international reconciliation and understanding. That is accomplished by our sections of publishing, research and educational work. The Foundation carried out several big expositions, several dozen publications with memories of former forced or slave laborers and prisoners of German concentration camps, novelettes, biographies, albums and historical studies. We organize historical lessons for young people, competitions and international conferences and educational meetings.

The voluntary service in the Foundation of Polish–German Reconciliation is realized by two workfields: a social voluntary service that is based on aiding older people and an institutional voluntary service that is based on participating in office work.

For over 17 years the Foundation for Polish–German Reconciliation offers help and care to polish victims of the Nazi persecution. Approximately half a million people already benefited from our help, among them prisoners of concentration camps and ghettos, forced workers of the Third Reich and victims of medical experiments. The intention of these projects is to aid victims of the Third Reich.

That is why we do appreciate when our volunteers are involved in aiding older people who have been targeted by the Nazis. This is not meant to be a professional nursing or medical care. The crucial fact is the contact to the older generation itself. The volunteers help older people in shopping, small housework or accompany them to go for a walk. Additionally for some at least one day during the week volunteer visits a senior's home to accompany the people living there.

Parallel to those projects the volunteers will also help in our everyday work in the office or archive, e.g. in organizing conferences, exhibitions and meetings, participation in our program “Database for polish Nazi victims”. Together with each volunteer, we look for interesting, exciting and of course useful tasks corresponding to his or her skills, expectations and interests. The work in the foundation is very diverse, ranging from meetings with people, social work, work in the archive, translations of texts, about the organization of exhibitions, conferences or journeys.
